Funeral of the Late Clarence Gilbertson

The funeral of Clarence Gilbertson, 19, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilbertson of Excell, whose death was recorded in the last issue of the News, took place in Oyen last Saturday.

Service was held at 2 p.m., in Oyen United Church, and interment followed at Oyen Cemetery. Rev. H. C. Woods, officiating, and the following friends acting as pallbearers: Bob Lees, Andrew Lees, Allan Caskey, Edmund Todd, Jerome Gulekson and Stanley Thayer.

The church, which had been beautifully arranged with plants and flowers, by the ladies aid, was filled to capacity and many who came to pay their last respects to this "fine boy and upright citizen" were unable to enter.

The deceased had won the respect and esteem of the entire community. His recent appointment as grain buyer for the Seale Grain Co., at Richdale, took him to that point this fall—the youngest man in their employ. He was making a success in his new situation and was well thought of. His tragic death leaves many sorrowing, but the fine example he set, as a faithful employee and loving and dutiful son, will be cherished by his family and friends alike.

Operations Resumed At Fuego Well

Operations were recommenced at the Fuego well last Monday, when the cement was drilled through to a depth of four feet below the casing. A test was then made for water and it was found after allowing the gas to blow for 18 hours, that the water which had been coming in from a depth of 2900 feet, was completely shut off.

The hole will now be cleaned out and drilled a little deeper with the hope of greatly increasing the flow of oil.

The cellar for Well No. 2, which is 9 feet by 9 feet and 20 feet deep, will be finished this week, after which it will be cemented and made ready for the derrick.

The armistice dance given in Oyen Theatre after the picture show last Monday evening, was well patronized. Les Pears and his Canadians supplied the music to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The council agreed to loan one of the twelve foot graders to the manager of the Fuego Oil Well on condition that it was returned in as good repair as at present.

ASK SUSPECTED OF MONEY GRANTS FOR MILITIA

Winnipeg—Demand for cessation of all money grants by the Dominion provincial and municipal governments for military purposes was contained in a resolution passed by the all-Canadian Congress of Labor in annual convention here.

Abolition of the entire cadet movement from Canadian schools was also demanded in the resolution, which urged that no further money grants be made for cadets.

Heated opposition by a number of delegates to the clauses demanding that no money grants be made for military purposes by the various governments kept the issue before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon and only by a small margin was the resolution passed.

Alleged discrimination by certain United States industries operating in Canada was brought out in debate on a report of the executive board reviewing labor conditions in Canada. Feeling against the International Labor Union was manifest by several speakers. The American firms were urged to have demanded that no money grants be made for military purposes by the various governments kept the issue before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon and only by a small margin was the resolution passed.

It was charged in the executive board's report that the craft unions, controlled by the American Federation of Labor, were responsible for the "impotence of the workers, political and economically, in their own country, and responsible for the slight regard in which labor had been held in Canada."

The congress decided to request the Ontario government to suspend training schools be constructed at intervals of not more than 120 miles to the territory west of the Great Lakes to the Manitoba boundary.

German Air Liner Wrecked

Six Persons Were Killed and Two Injured in Crash

Marlen Park, Surrey, England.—Six persons were killed and two injured in the crash of a big German air liner bound for Berlin from Cologne. Three of those killed were passengers and three were crew members.

One of the survivors was Prince Eugene Schumburg-Lippe, second cousin of a former reigning prince of the oldest German royal houses. He was acting as second pilot. The prince was injured but is expected to recover. The other injured man, Lieut.-Commander Glen Kidston, widely known racing motorist, suffered cuts.

The crash which was followed by the machine bursting into flames, is expected to have been caused by the pilot flying into a hillside during a fog.

Behind the remnants of the air liner was a large pile of wreckage which had been torn from the ground by the big machine's last lunge. The crash and the burst of flames followed instantly, and after a few blazing seconds, there remained only the charred wreckage in which the victims had been trapped.

Coming To Canada

Thousands of Mennonites Would Leave Russia For This Dominion

Moscow.—Three thousand Siberian peasants of German descent, mostly Mennonites, have received passports to migrate to Canada. Before granting the passports the Soviet authorities exacted full payment of taxes and specified that the emigrants deposit all their possessions in Soviet hands, since exportation of rubles is forbidden.

Seven thousand of the would-be emigrants are concentrated in camps around Moscow obtaining passports at the rate of 100 per day.

Walker Agnes Major Of N.Y. New York.—Mayor James Walker, more familiarly known as "Jimmy" to the millions of the metropolis, was swept into office again for another year's term of office, interrupting last December when the King fell ill. It is expected the Prince will sail for Capetown on the steamer "Kestel" north castle, January 1st.

Prince Will Resume Tour

London, Eng.—King George and Queen Mary have officially approved the Prince of Wales' intention to resume his tour of Africa, interrupted last December when the King fell ill. It is expected the Prince will sail for Capetown on the steamer "Kestel" north castle, January 1st.

Dog Rescues

Wounded Trapper

Carried Note To Nearest Camp and Returned With Help

Nakina, Ont.—Once again a man owes his life to the intelligence and faithfulness of a dog. Andrew Sytyk, 22, accidentally shot himself when he picked up a revolver from his holster while hunting at an isolated camp at Pine Lake.

Realizing his predicament and knowing that he could not reach the nearest trapper's cabin himself, Sytyk scribbled a note and fastening it to his dog's collar, ordered the animal to proceed to the nearest camp, owned by Thomas Hughes.

The dog ran through three miles of bush and swam a river to reach Hughes' cabin.

Hughes, with the animal leading the way, reached Sytyk's camp after rendering first aid, brought the man to his own camp. A railway passenger brought the wounded man to Nakina, and he was later rushed to Port Arthur by train.

Aviators Killed In Montreal

Seaplane of Canadian Government Crashed While Being Tested

Montreal.—Pilot Officer Paul Gaston Stanley, 23, of Toronto, and flight instructor John McLaughlin, 35, of Montreal, were almost instantly killed when a Canadian Vickers "Vedette" seaplane which they were testing for the Canadian government crashed in a field near Saint-Augustine. The plane buried its nose in the soft surface of the field and by the time the two airmen were released all the powers concerned, and this opens a wide field for research containing both technical and political elements.

McLaughlin was a test inspector and Stanley was flying the seaplane. They had made a previous test flight early in the day but the weather conditions were not suitable for flying and a second flight was attempted in the afternoon. It was believed that the machine had gone into a spin at a time when, owing to the low "cell" the pilot was unable to recover before reaching the ground.

Take Money and Food From Peasants

Families Migrating From Germany Deprived Of Everything In Report

New York.—The following wireless from Kiel, Germany, was published in the New York Times: "Thirty-three peasant families comprising 323 persons, whose ancestors migrated from Germany to Russia under Catherine the Great, and who together with about 5,000 other peasants died to migrate to Canada, arrived here last week. They were met by 'Felix Dierschmidt,' without money or food."

According to their own statement they were searched bodily before sailing and deprived of all money and food.

It is rumored the Canadian government has already agreed to pay for their transportation to Canada and to provide the peasants with agricultural tools and other necessities.

Cheers Greet Premier

MacDonald, Receives Hearty Welcome From Members Of House

London, Eng.—Taking his place on the front bench of the House of Commons for the first time since his return from his notable visit to America, Premier MacDonald was greeted with loud cheers from the members. Many of them rose to their feet and waved their order papers in salute.

Mr. MacDonald, resuming the leadership of the government in the Commons, found a packed house awaiting what promises to be a highly important utterance on unemployment from Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Mayor of London, and Minister of Employment.

This is an issue that friends and foes of labor are watching with the keenest attention and the government's handling of it has vital bearing of its fate.

Postpone Pool Convention

Predicts Era Of Disease

New York Physician Says Slim Conditions In Europe Unbelievable

New York.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, on his return from a twelve weeks' visit to Europe, said he never saw such squalid poverty as in the slums of European cities. He said conditions in the poorer sections were almost unbelievable and predicted they would result in an era of disease. "This country," he said, "must guard itself against that by strict immigration regulations. The examination of aliens must be more thorough and there must be more men to do it."

Senator Copeland is a physician and a former commissioner of health in New York City.

PROBLEMS AWAIT NAVAL PARLEY IN JANUARY

Washington.—In the swing of time toward January and the five-power disarmament conference in London, the government here and officials of the state and navy departments are hard at work upon the case for the United States. While in the midst of Great Britain and the United States are agreed upon what status it is necessary for the United States to maintain in the much-discussed cruiser class, it has been emphasized here again and again that no satisfactory agreement will be arrived at without the assent of all the powers concerned, and this opens a wide field for research containing both technical and political elements.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has been for some weeks past continually working with the general board of the navy and he and Under-Secretary of State Joseph P. Cotton, have also consulted frequently with President Hoover.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, a fourth member of the delegation, is expected to stay for some time at the White House, during his present visit here from London, an opportunity will be afforded them for complete canvassing of the whole problem. President Hoover places large hopes upon the London conference.

The chief question at the situation is viewed from Washington, concerns the powers of France and Italy and Great Britain and geographically as situated in the Mediterranean.

First, France and Italy must arrive at an agreement upon parity, which they may do between themselves. But both France and Italy are opposed to the abolition of the submarine, favored by both Great Britain and the United States.

"The poor man's battleship" has an interesting significance in the Mediterranean wherein is one of the great trade routes of the British Empire.

Another matter which receives attention here is the proposal of France that London should be the seat of the League of Nations, a suggestion which finds no favor in the United States.

Japan, it is indicated, would like to have her cruiser strength proportionately to the British and American fleets, making her seven to ten instead of six at present.

MENTIONED FOR IMPORTANT POST

Lord Arnold, British paymaster-general, who accompanied Ramsay MacDonald on his visit to this country, is being prominently mentioned in British Labor party circles as possible successor to Sir Esmé Howard, British ambassador to the United States, soon to return from Washington.

Many Farmers Coming To Make Homes In Canada

North Portal, Sask.—Despite the winter weather settlers from the United States are coming to Western Canada. During the past few days six carloads of stock and effects have cleared customs at this port. Alfred Haskins shipped two cars from Wendell, Minn., to Aneroid, Sask., where he had farmed for some years, but a year ago returned to Minnesota and started in poultry and dairy farming. The call of the broad prairie was too strong.

Frank McKnight, also a Canadian, many years ago, shipped two cars from Noley, Mont., to Leslie, Sask., where he is renting land from a brother. While in the Soo yards at Port Huron, N.D., McKnight was struck by a freight engine, his leg being injured so that he had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. His stock and effects were looked after by Clarence Reed, who was a neighbor in Montana and who also is immigrating to Leslie, with a car of stock. Mr. McKnight was able to leave the hospital later and left for Leslie on a passenger train.

L. Macdonald, of Burlington, N.D., shipped a car to Hysted, Alta., where he has taken a homestead.

Russian Airman Asks Permission To Resume Return Journey

New York.—The four Russian aviators, members of the crew of the "Land of the Soviets," which flew from Moscow to New York, have wired Soviet officials for permission to fly across the Atlantic ocean to England. They hope to leave in two weeks from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

Semyon Asbestarov is chief pilot and commander of the Soviet plane and P. V. Bolotov, B. V. Sterligov, and D. V. Fufayev, are members of the crew.

India Favors Idea Of Dominion Status

British Viceroy's Declaration Has Removed Tension From Politics

New Delhi, India.—Opinion in India has now crystallized into definite judgment on the Viceroy's historic declaration of November 1, making it clear that the favorable response is wider than might have been expected. The Viceroy's affirmation of the British government's desire that India should attain dominion status in the fullness of time, and pointing out a conference should be held in London to clear up relations between India and the native states of India, is described as removing with one bold stroke all the electric tension from Ind an politcs.

Anglo-Indian newspapers not only were the first to describe the announcement as wise, but they also resented the opposition voiced in the British press. Both progressive and press opinion is being modelled on the lines of the statement issued by Sir C. Monckton, the Indian National Congress and other leaders, including M. Gandhi, great upholder of Indian nationalism. This statement gives conditional acceptance, suggesting a livelier spirit should be infused into the government of the country.

The new constitution for India actually comes into existence. The depressed masses and Indian Christians welcome the Viceroy's announcement and ask that their interests be protected at the conference.

At the same time, the German army signed away her claim to her colonies: Kamerun, Togo, Southwest Africa, Tanganyika, Ruanda-Urundi, New Guinea, Samoa, Idles, Corea, Formosa, Kouroukou and Lochoo. These people were placed under mandate to the League of Nations, England, Japan, and the British dominions of Australia, New Zealand and Union of South Africa.

These former German possessions are no longer colonies, but mandated territories, expensive heirlooms of the war, and those who inherited their care. The mandated territories are privileged to spend vast sums of money building up and governing the mandated territories, but getting nothing but worries in return.

Relations With Russia Restored By Labor Party

London, Eng.—Full diplomatic relations are to be restored between Great Britain and Russia.

By a vote of 224 to 190 the House of Commons have approved the government's action for resumption of such relations and at the same time rejected a Conservative amendment which had condemned any resumption until the preliminary conditions have been satisfied. There were stipulations in regard to Soviet propaganda.

The decision regarding Russia came in the House of Commons and the House of Lords, for the first time since the Russian revolution, the latest development in the Russian constitutional crisis. Such a decision is not often experienced, even at Westminster.

The Russians began eagerly expecting Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's report of his mission to the House of Commons, and his subsequent visit to Russia. Scarcely had Mr. MacDonald concluded, when the House of Lords began a debate on the "mythical" proclamation by Lord Irwin, viceroy of India, which affirmed the British Government's desire to accede to the Soviet demand for the fullness of time.

The doom of the Conservative amendment regarding relations with Russia was speedily sounded in the House of Commons by Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who wielded the balance of power.

Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin had charged Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, with "surrendering" to the Soviet representative in the negotiations leading to resumption of relations. Mr. Henderson denied there had been any surrender.

The foreign secretary stressed that under the new protocol, the governments of Great Britain and Russia would reciprocally confirm the pledge in regard to propaganda immediately the actual exchange of ambassadors took place.

Mr. Lloyd George then indicated the Liberal attitude by describing the break in relations with Russia initiated by the former Conservative Government, when Aroos House, in London, was raided "as an act of supreme silliness." He concluded "I say God speed the foreign secretary."

Several Conservatives supported the Labor Government in the division. These included Lady Astor, John Dugan (noted novelist), and Robert Boothby, member for Eastern Aberdeen and Kincardine.

The vote approving the government's motion for restoration of relations, marked the first definite accomplishment of Mr. MacDonald's government since other negotiations in the foreign fields, as well as schemes for relief of domestic unemployment, have yet to be submitted for parliamentary approval.

Not a single dominion had expressed opposition to the policy which had been pursued, declared Mr. Henderson. Replies received by the government indicated it was generally approved, and that the renewal of relations sooner or later was inevitable.

GERMANY SEEKS RESTORATION OF LOST COLONIES

Paris, France.—Germany, having gained the Viceroy's historic declaration of November 1, making it clear that the favorable response is wider than might have been expected. The Viceroy's affirmation of the British government's desire that India should attain dominion status in the fullness of time, and pointing out a conference should be held in London to clear up relations between India and the native states of India, is described as removing with one bold stroke all the electric tension from Ind an politcs.

Gives Report On Settlement

Canadian Congress Of Labor Has Idea To Abolish Immigration

Winnipeg—Large scale development of uncultivated areas in Canada through agricultural and industrial development is recommended by the executive board of the all-Canadian Congress of Labor, in the board report submitted to the third annual convention. Such a plan, it is advanced, would absorb immigration to this country without detriment to the Dominion. The co-operative settlement idea advanced by the Labor Congress executive is stated to be based on a plan advanced by Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P., first commissioner of works in the Labor government of Great Britain. Attention was directed to an interview with Mr. Lansbury published in a current edition of the Canadian Unionist, organ of the all-Canadian Congress of Labor.

League of Nations Society Accomplishing Good Work, But Handicapped By Lack of Funds

With the visit of Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald to the United States and Canada, and the momentous decisions which will result from that visit public attention has been concentrated on the subject of world peace.

In considering this subject much credit is given to the League of Nations, in Geneva, and the greater it is doing. This is only right and the more the ideals of the League are brought before the public, the more likely is it that still further practical results will follow its effects. But in Canada and elsewhere it is only fair that some credit should come to the home societies which are actively propagating League ideals in their several countries.

Canada there has existed for some nine years an organization well and favorably known as the League of Nations Society of Canada. Handicapped by lack of funds, by comparative public indifference and an inadequate staff, it has continuously attempted to be an influence for good in all parts of the country and to zealously battle for the ideals for which it was founded.

Through the co-operation of the press of Canada, whose leading executives recognize the importance of its campaign, some publicity has been given to the yearly effort of this organization to increase its membership, but we feel that more continuous co-operation both by press and public would be most opportune at the present time.

It is far away, and many of the issues with which it deals are too complicated for the average man to read or understand. No organization is exempt in need of comparative interpretation, and that work is being carried out with praiseworthy diligence. It is not too much to say that such an organization would be a fit subject for a perpetual endowment which would relieve it of the necessity of raising funds for comparatively small sum which it requires to carry on its immensely valuable work.—The Federation Daily Mail.

Imperial Farmers' Union

Federation To Encourage the Consumption of Empire Products

The National Farmers' Union of British Columbia has prepared the formation of an Imperial Farmers' Union or Federation to encourage the consumption of Empire products, to stimulate competition between different parts of the Empire, to stabilize quantities and prices, to control surpluses and other similar objects.

As this was in line with the policy of the United Farmers' of Canada, Saskatchewan section, the matter was taken up by the executive of the organization at Saskatoon and the following resolution passed: "That in the opinion of the executive such affiliation could be made if we had a national organization in Canada or a co-ordinating agency, and that until such an organization is formed we endeavor to establish contact by way of correspondence and literature with the National Farmers' Union of Scotland."

In a letter received at the U.F.C. headquarters, the secretary of the British Columbia expressed surprise that farmers had no national organization in Canada, and hoped that it would be possible to co-ordinate the work of the various provincial organizations through a central executive which to begin with, might act in an advisory capacity.

Commenting on the proposal, Frank Ellison, secretary of the U.F.C., said: "Everywhere throughout the Empire we do all that we can to work towards closer relationships in agriculture for the control of surpluses and the stabilization of prices and thus place agriculture on a sound business basis. The U.F.C. administration is anxious to develop this movement and we do all that we can to bring about a co-ordination of the provincial organizations as they realize more and more before that farm products must be controlled by the farmers themselves in order to stabilize prices on a basis that will make agriculture prosperous."

Jap Diplomats Land

"The destinies of Canada and Japan lie together in the great Pacific Ocean," declared Hon. Iyemasa Tokugawa, C.C.V.O., first minister to represent the Emperor of Japan here, when he reached the Dominion on board Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of France," at Vancouver, recently. With him is photographed Taro Fukuma, Japanese Consul-General. Mr. Tokugawa is the son of Prince Iyemasa Tokugawa, a man of long experience in diplomacy. He was on his way to Ottawa to present his credentials to the Canadian government from the Japanese Emperor.

Miracle Of Conducting

Dr. Erich Fisher, a Swiss engineer, has completed an invention whereby orchestras in different countries can be conducted simultaneously by wireless. An experiment will be made at Zurich shortly, when orchestras in London, Paris, Berlin, and Milan, under Dr. Fisher's command, will unite in transmitting a new hymn to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the League of Nations.

Evidence Of Ancient Customs

It was customary with girls in ancient Greece and Rome to offer, when they approached the marriageable age, their dolls to Venus or Diana. Many of these ancient dolls, made of wood, clay, ivory or wax, have been found in tombs of Greek and Roman origin. These curious votive offerings should be taken to have been universal in the ancient world.

Projected Trans-Atlantic Air Service From Canada To England via Greenland

Seed Oats To Be Supplied

Farmers In Saskatchewan Dry Area Should Order Early

That arrangements were made some time ago for the purchasing of seed oats for farmers in the drought affected districts of Saskatchewan, is announced by Hon. W. C. Huckle, Minister of Agriculture, who stated that a considerable portion of the oats required for this purpose have already been bought and deliveries are being made to the Canadian Government Elevator, at Moose Jaw. R. M. Johnson, of Pasqua, acting as seed purchasing commissioner, has represented the government in these transactions, but is not purchasing fodder as has been reported in the press.

Investigation reveals the fact that while there is in Saskatchewan a sufficient quantity of oats to meet feed requirements, there does not appear to be sufficient seed oats, consequently purchases have been made in the province of Alberta in addition to those which have been made and are being purchased in Saskatchewan.

The Department of Agriculture is receiving offers of seed oats grown in the United States and is making selection from these of quantities suitable for seed purposes. It is not expected that there will be any difficulty in getting a sufficient supply of seed oats if oats which are suitable for seed are used for that purpose. It is for fodder that the department is in a position to provide for the seed supply of seed oats purchased by rural municipalities.

The minister stated also that in his opinion it would be well for farmers to make arrangements at an early date to provide for their seed supply in order to avoid possible disappointment.

Details of the projected trans-Atlantic air service from Canada to England via Greenland, are contained in information received by the Civil Aviation Branch of the Department of National Defence, at Ottawa.

The scheme, which calls for an elaborate outfit of airports and radio beacons on Winnipeg to Baker Lake, and from Baker Lake to Cape Wren, in Canada, is advanced by Warren Scholl, a consulting engineer from Chicago, who is now staying in Winnipeg.

Mr. Scholl is seeking to promote the scheme, which calls for a daily service between Chicago and Croydon, using Winnipeg as the main stopping point on this continent. He plans to operate a shuttle service between New York and Winnipeg, as well as between the western city and the important population centres.

From Cape Wren it is planned that planes should fly to Southern Greenland where an airport would be established on the level surface of the ice cap. From Greenland 'planes would fly to Iceland, to the Faroe Islands, and on to Ireland and Croydon.

Mr. Scholl is seeking to organize three separate companies, one in the United States, one in Canada, and one in Great Britain, which would bear the cost of the whole scheme between them.

His plan calls for the floating of separate loans in each country and for the exchange of blocks of stock between the three countries involved, so that profits and losses would be equally distributed.

Planes used in the service would be amphibians, of all-metal construction. Pilots would be guided over the entire route by radio beacons, which, Mr. Scholl says, would defeat the hazards of bad weather which, he claims, supersede altimeters would enable pilots to make blind landings with an accuracy of four feet, as ordered by authorities to be a safe margin. The route would not be subject to the usual construction of the sea, but would be equipped with the most modern of lighting equipment.

Revenue would be derived through the carrying of passengers, mail and express. The machines would have a capacity of 20 passengers, 20 passengers, while a system of deferred express rates, something like cable rates, would be instituted to make up pay loads on days when the passenger quota was small.

Where the Rain Goes

Experiments Show Largest Amount Returns To Atmosphere Through Evaporation

Where does the rain go? A three-year study of the United States Geological Survey has answered this question. The Pomperaug Basin, in Connecticut, which is believed to be typical of the country at large, was given intensive study. The results, says Popular Science Monthly, showed that of the annual rainfall of 44 inches, 21 inches flow out through streams. The other 23 inches return to the atmosphere. Evaporation from the soil, from water surfaces, and from the leaves of trees account for these tons of moisture that enter the air.

Spooled the Show

The Dramatic Society was presenting an historical play and one of the newly enrolled members had been assigned a part with exactly one line to speak. He was the headman, and arranged in all the glory of black tights and mask, he strode on to the centre of the stage and announced: "My lord, my lord, I have been the maid."

"Oh, you have, 'ave you?" retorted one of the other men in the guise of the cruel king. "Well, allow me to tell you that you've missed the 'de blooming show. You've been and done it two acts too soon."

One thing we haven't seen yet is a paper gnat towel.

John M. Irlie Tells Easterners Of Development In The West

Speaking at a joint dinner of the Canadian and Rotary clubs at Sherbrooke, Que., John M. Irlie, managing editor of the Edmonton Journal, described what he calls "Canada's New Northwest," and told of the active progress of that section of the Dominion, stretching northwest of Lake Superior, and basic causes of the new movement—the lure of mineral wealth as well as agriculture and forest development.

It has to do with new discoveries of oil and gas," said Mr. Irlie, "with new trade routes and new foreign markets, and with economic changes that are making for decentralization of industry."

Shipment Of 18 Animals Sent From Moose Jaw To New Brunswick

In order to try out the market for certain types of horses in New Brunswick, a shipment of 18 animals was consigned from Moose Jaw to the Maritime Province by the Saskatchewan Livestock Pool and the Department of Agriculture. Under the arrangements entered into between the Livestock Pool and the Federal and Provincial Governments, the Pool assumes the shipments and the two governments assist in promoting the sale of the horses. Larger shipments are to be made in the near future.

No Introduction Needed

Canadians Are Welcomed At Any International Gathering

Canada is the most promising country in the world, in the estimation of the statesmen assembled for the League of Nations council, Hon. J. C. Mr. Elliott was one of the Canadian delegates at Geneva this autumn.

Tommy had a new puppy, of which he was very proud, so he asked his little pal, Mary, who was a very big child, to come and make its acquaintance.

The puppy seemed to take quite a fancy to Mary, and followed her all over the place.

"Why, Tommy," she cried proudly, "I believe your puppy like me better than you!"

"I suppose you know why," retorted Tommy, slightly jealous. "It's because he thinks you're a horse!"

Egyptians Reverence Palm Tree

The date palm tree is a sacred thing. For thousands of years it has been to the Egyptian felahs and to the nomads of Africa the tree of life and the tree of death. Its uses are so numerous that with frugal races they are a principal article of food. Upon its transparent bark was written, in ancient hieroglyphics, the first awakening of human thought. It provided coverings for the old Egyptian mummies. Its branches furnished the wrappings of mummies.

Grain Mixtures For Feed

Practice Of Sowing Mixture Of Grains For Seed Over Growing Oats Has Little Value

There is apparently little advantage in sowing mixture of grain for seed over growing oats alone when a good variety is chosen. This conclusion, at least, may be drawn from an experiment that has been going on for several years at the Fredericton, N.B. Experiment Station, and which is published in the report of the superintendent for last year, which may be secured from the publications branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Three plots were sown with mixtures and three with single varieties. The grains used were Huron wheat, Victory oats and Charlottetown No. 80 barley. For the past four years the average yield has been highest with Victory oats which were sown at the rate of three bushels per acre.

The yield was at the rate of 1,648 pounds to the acre, as against 1,640 for a mixture of wheat one peck, oats two bushels, and barley one bushel. The next lower yield was 1,600 pounds from a mixture of wheat two pecks, oats and barley one bushel each.

When wheat, oats and barley were sown in equal amounts of one bushel each to the acre the yield was 1,506 pounds. The barley alone sown at two and one-half bushels to the acre gave a yield of 1,316 pounds, while Huron wheat sown at one bushel and three pecks, yielded 708 pounds as an average for the four years.

In another series of experiments barley and oats when sown in combination and at different rates were compared with oats and barley sown alone. The highest average yield for the four years was 1,764 pounds to the acre from a seeding of one bushel of barley and two bushels of oats.

Victory oats alone gave the next yield of 1,648 pounds. It was followed by oats, one peck, and barley six pecks sown together of 1,584, while one bushel and barley one bushel, gave 1,471 pounds, and barley alone, 1,216 pounds to the acre. In the second series of experiments the highest yield was obtained from a mixture of two parts of oats, one part of barley sown at the rate of three bushels to the acre.
